We're looking for a Social Media Manager (Instagram & TikTok) to help grow a lifestyle jewelry brand.*

At the initial stage, this is a part-time, fully remote position (not full-time).

Role includes:

- Creating, editing, and posting content
- Managing day-to-day Instagram & TikTok activity
- Running and optimizing paid ads
- Engagement, comments, and community management
- Outreach and collaborations with influencers

Compensation:

Base pay + performance commissions, with potential opportunities to grow into long-term collaborations and partnership models for the right person.

👉 This role is for someone focused on growth and results — not just content posting.

👉 Please apply only if you're comfortable with a compensation model that includes base pay + commissions.

If you're looking for fixed salary only, please do not apply.

{Also suitable for talented young creators looking for their first real business opportunity, as long as you have hands-on experience with social media, content creation, and a strong understanding of Instagram and TikTok}.

Strong advantage for candidates managing active accounts with real, proven results.

(Also: Influencers or creators with a few thousand followers or more who are interested in creating and sharing UGC/content in exchange for products are welcome to reach out.)
