Transactional Associate Attorney – Real Estate & Healthcare

Cedarhurst, New York | Full-Time | Mid/Senior Level Associate

We are a sophisticated, multi-practice law firm specializing in Healthcare, Real Estate, Corporate, and Litigation. Our firm offers the unique opportunity to work on complex, high-stakes national transactions alongside expert attorneys from top-tier firms and prestigious law schools—all while maintaining an excellent work-life balance.

Our clients include private equity firms, and high-net-worth companies/investors that acquire, operate, finance, divest, develop, and lease healthcare, real estate, and financial assets across the United States.

We are actively recruiting a talented Transactional Associate to join our growing Healthcare and Real Estate practice groups. This role is ideal for an ambitious attorney who wants to continue their professional and financial success without sacrificing their personal life.

What We Are Looking For:

- Experience: Prior experience in either healthcare transactional or commercial real estate law.
- Skills: Strong drafting, negotiating, and due diligence skills, with the ability to handle complicated transactions.
- Drive: A motivated professional looking for top-tier work, market-competitive compensation, and a collaborative, balanced office culture.

What We Offer:

- High-Caliber Work: Handle sophisticated matters for premier national clients.
- True Work-Life Balance: Achieve career growth without the grueling lifestyle of traditional BigLaw.
- Compensation: Salary range $150,000-$275,000, competitive market salary commensurate with experience.

Senior Project Manager

Lakewood, NJ | $150,000–$200,000 | Full-time

Growing NYC General Contractor.

We are seeking an experienced Senior Project Manager to lead projects from planning through completion. This is a high-level role focused on project planning, budgeting, and ensuring every detail is coordinated before construction begins while driving the project through successful completion.

Responsibilities:

- Lead projects from planning through completion.
- Review architectural, structural, engineering, MEP, and shop drawings.
- Identify design conflicts, constructability issues, code concerns, and potential cost impacts before construction.
- Coordinate with architects, engineers, consultants, owners, and subcontractors.
- Manage RFIs, bidding, budgets, contracts, scheduling, billing, change orders, and project financials.
- Oversee NYC DOB filings, permitting, insurance compliance, and building code requirements.
- Keep projects on schedule, within budget, and moving efficiently from start to finish.

Qualifications:

- 5+ years managing large NYC construction projects.
- Expert knowledge of architectural, structural, engineering, MEP, and shop drawings.
- Strong knowledge of NYC DOB requirements, permitting, insurance requirements, and building codes.
- Exceptional attention to detail with the ability to visualize a project from the plans, identify issues, and resolve them before construction begins.
- Strong leadership, communication, organizational, and problem-solving skills.

What Sets This Role Apart:

- We're looking for someone who can personally analyze construction documents, recognize issues others may miss, and ensure every aspect of the project is fully coordinated before construction begins while successfully managing the project through completion.
- Excellent long-term growth opportunity.

Director of Logistics – Manufacturing

Irvington, New Jersey | $225,000 – $250,000 DOE

The Director of Logistics ensures every product movement, international and domestic, happens on time, at the right cost, and with a high, consistent customer experience. This role owns end-to-end inbound and outbound logistics, transportation, warehouses, and service performance, and partners cross-functionally to plan capacity, improve execution, and build a forward-looking logistics strategy. This is a people-leader role, sitting between the VP of Logistics and three existing Shipping teams (warehouse and office).

Key Responsibilities:

- Own end-to-end logistics performance across inbound, outbound, inter-warehouse transfers, and special/emergency shipments to achieve on-time ship and on-time delivery results.
- Lead all shipping and warehouse teams across multiple locations, setting clear expectations, operating rhythms, and accountability from managers through frontline supervisors.
- Direct transportation strategy and execution (routing, zones, delivery schedules, carrier mix, service levels), balancing cost, speed, safety, and quality.
- Own inbound freight planning (international and domestic), controlling ETAs, appointment windows, and flow to prevent disruption to production and outbound schedules.
- Lead carrier, broker, and third-party partner management, including contracts, pricing, performance scorecards, claims, and corrective action.
- Own InTime Freight Logistics operations (drivers, trucks, warehouses, utilization, safety, and service), improving productivity and reliability while controlling cost.
- Build and run logistics management analytics (LMA) and KPI reporting to identify delays, capacity risks, damages, and cost leaks, then drive corrective actions to closure.
- Drive continuous improvement across processes, systems, and tools (Warehouse Management System/Transportation Management System), standardizing best practices across all locations.

Qualifications:

- 5+ years leading logistics/shipping in a high-volume manufacturing or distribution environment; multi-site experience preferred.
- Proven leader of leaders, building accountable teams, overseeing hiring, coaching, and performance.
- Strong knowledge of inbound/outbound freight, domestic/international shipping, warehouse operations.
- Track record improving on-time ship/on-time delivery, reducing damage/claims, lowering logistics cost.
- Comfortable owning carriers/partners: rates, service levels, performance reviews, and issue resolution.

- Strong data and systems skills (Warehouse Management System, Transportation Management System, Enterprise Resource Planning, dashboards); uses metrics to drive action.
- Strong communication skills.
