NY: Kactus (family office) is hiring a VP/sr assoc.

THE ORGANIZATION:

Kactus Capital is a sophisticated institutional single family office located in NYC. The firm manages capital on behalf of an investment executive who founded and manages a multi-billion dollar global alternative investment firm. Kactus Capital seeks to generate compelling long-term capital appreciation primarily by partnering with leading external investment managers across alternative asset classes on a global basis. Kactus Capital invests in both public and private markets and also pursues coinvests and direct investments. The firm primarily invests in alternative assets such as hedge funds, private equity funds (both buy-out and growth equity), special situations/distressed, private credit/direct lending and private equity real estate. The firm embraces a collaborative and inclusive culture which it believes is key to generating and maintaining best in class investment returns. The returns on investments support the family's global philanthropic and charitable endeavors. Kactus Capital was awarded Family Office of the Year 2023 by Institutional Investor.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

Reporting to the Chief Investment Officer, the Senior Investment Associate/Vice President of Investments/Mid-Level Investment Professional will work collaboratively with the team across the entire portfolio with a primary focus on marketable investments and, secondly, public markets. This includes sourcing new investment opportunities across all asset classes spanning marketables and public markets and to some degree private markets. The individual will be involved in leading analysis, diligence and research processes and managing relationships with external investment managers and parties. Additional responsibilities include:

- Sourcing and maintaining a pipeline of investment opportunities and funds
- Conducting thorough investment due diligence on the most compelling prospective opportunities including analysis of investment strategy, process, organization, historical returns, portfolio positions and performance

- Monitoring performance, portfolio positions, current events and organizational changes of the family's existing fund managers and completing analytical reviews to evaluate the relative performance of each fund manager on a regular basis

- Drafting of investment recommendations/memos, diligence reports/analyses and other materials for investment committee meetings

- Assisting in risk analysis and performance analysis on underlying investment managers and aggregate investment portfolio'

- Helping mentor and manage the team's Investment Associate

- Various other portfolio management responsibilities and special projects

BACKGROUND REQUIREMENTS:

The successful candidate will possess between 6-8 years of finance/investment experience including having worked at a leading endowment, foundation, institutional family office or related investment platform. He/she will have a demonstrated record of investment and relevant work experience which includes third-party manager evaluation and sourcing. Additional qualifications include:

- Strong analytical capabilities and mindset: must have the ability to integrate strong analytics in his/her quantitative and qualitative investment evaluations

- Experience with alternative investments (absolute return orientated hedge funds, private equity funds, private credit, real estate, etc.) and traditional investments (public equities, credit/fixed income); strong preference for a generalist background

- Established network of investment contacts and GP relationships; ability to access independent network for manager evaluation and reference checking purposes

- Capacity to think creatively and independently

- Strong ability to independently explore and research investment themes, investment hypotheses and opportunistic investments

- Successfully identify investment managers which are truly unique and differentiated

- Unimpeachable ethics with the highest level of integrity, discretion, honesty, loyalty and commitment

- Personal fit with a small dynamic team is essential

- Passion for investing and intellectual curiosity

- Investor mindset, not a bucket filler mindset

- Proactive, highly motivated and a positive "can do" attitude

- Team player with the ability to work independently and drive projects to completion

- Strong writing, verbal communication and interpersonal skills and the ability to represent his/her ideas in collaborative discussions

- Along with an undergraduate degree from a top tier university, top tier MBA and CFA are highly preferred and/or interest in obtaining a CFA designation in the very near term

- High proficiency with Excel, Word, PowerPoint, Bloomberg
- Willingness to travel as needed
- Interested candidates should send resume and cover letter discussing their qualifications to:
